

Why AJ Bell Platinum SIPP?

Introduction to AJ Bell

AJ Bell was set up in 1995 as an actuarial consultancy and bespoke SIPP and SSAS provider. SIPPs and SSASs have always been, and remain, core parts of the company, though AJ Bell has grown to become one of the UK's largest investment platforms, with £85.8 billion of assets under administration.

Today our bespoke SIPP and SSAS products come under the AJ Bell Platinum brand. For more information, please visit our dedicated website ajbellplatinum.co.uk.

Why SIPP?

A wide range of investment opportunities are available within the AJ Bell Platinum SIPP, including:

- cash deposits;
- National Savings & Investment Products;
- Discretionary investment managers;
- Directly managed portfolios of stocks and shares, unit trusts and investment trusts;
- Insured investments, including Trustee Investment Plans;
- fixed-interest stocks.

It is generally easier to achieve separation of assets in SIPPs, as opposed to a SSAS, if members wish to make independent investment decisions. For this reason, co-directors in a business may prefer the SIPP option, particularly if there is difference in term to retirement or in attitude to investment risk.

Testimonials

The best way to understand the value of our service is to hear from people who already use it.

We recommend AJ Bell Platinum because they have an experienced team of readily accessible and technically strong trustee consultants. They are backed up by a fluent back office team who deliver documents fast and liaise with us at any turn.

Andy Hiatt, Hiatt Financial, Staffordshire.

We specialise in bespoke pension planning and deal with many SIPPs and SSAS schemes for our clients and place a very high emphasis on the need for quality service from the scheme providers in terms of professionalism, technical knowledge, administrative support and accessibility. The importance of these aspects of pension planning cannot be over-emphasised and I am happy to report that our many experiences with the AJ Bell Platinum team have always supported our faith in the quality of their personnel, their integrity and commitment to the high standards that are an essential component in this area of financial planning.

Angela Maher, Managing Director, Acumen Financial Partnership, Liverpool

AJ Bell have the finest technical team in the UK on all things pensions, they have by far and away the best products and service standards. We have been using Andy Bell's firm for years and its been a real pleasure.
